IOWA CITY VIOLA QUARTET. The Iowa City Viola Quartet was formed in 2004. Its founding members, Nathalie Cruden (Principal Viola, Cedar Rapids Symphony Orchestra), Michael Kimber (faculty member at Coe College and former Professor of Viola at the University of Kansas and the University of Southern Mississippi), Elizabeth Oakes (violinist of the Maia Quartet), and Christine Rutledge (Associate Professor of Viola at the University of Iowa), gave their debut performance at the 2004 Iowa Viola Society Viola Day and have been going strong ever since! With a diverse repertoire ranging from compositions by J. S. Bach and York Bowen to original compositions and arrangements by their composer-in-residence Michael Kimber, the ICVQ likes to keep busy by performing at local hospitals, nursing homes, schools, and arts events in the region. Their motto is: “We Love to Play the Viola! (Especially with the Iowa City Viola Quartet!)”
