TRANSLATIONS

In stiller Nacht

Translation:

In silent night, at first watch, a voice begins to lament.
The night wind has sweetly and gently carried the sound to me.
With bitter pain and sorrow my heart is melted.
With simple tears and flowers I have watered all of them.
The lovely moon will now set, for sorrow it doesn't want to shine,
The stars stop their gleaming, they want to weep with me.
No birdsong nor joyous sounds can be heard in the air.
Even the wild beasts grieve with me in rocks and ravines.

Luna Liberiana

Translation:

Oh, divine moon that illuminates our land,
unfathomable mysteries that confound our souls;
the star comes between the clouds, mysterious and dark.
Oh, divine moon that illuminates our land.
Liberian Moon, moon for love,
mysterious nights of intoxicating love;
It is a paradise that the Creator gave us,
of beautiful women that know of love.
Liberian Moon, moon for love,
underneath your veil, I cry of pleasure,
and in calm nights, when everyone sleeps,
Liberian moon, I will watch for you.

“Surrexit Christus” from *Gloria Patri

Translation:

Christ is risen today, Hallelujah!

“Õnnis on inimene” from Taaveti Laulud

Translation:

Blessed is the one who does not walk in step with the wicked.
For the Lord watches over the way of the righteous:
but the way of the wicked leads to destruction.
Serve the Lord with fear,
and rejoice with trembling.
Blessed are all who put their trust in him.
Arise, O Lord; save me, O my God!
Glory to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, now and forever.
Amen.

O vos omnes

Translation:

O all ye that pass by the way, attend and see:
If there be any sorrow like my sorrow.
Attend, all ye people, and see my sorrow:
If there be any sorrow like my sorrow.

David Puderbaugh is Assistant Director of Choral Activities at the University of Iowa, where he conducts University Choir, teaches graduate choral literature and undergraduate choral conducting, and advises D.M.A. theses. He is also Associate Director of the School of Music, overseeing the graduate program. A native Iowan, Dr. Puderbaugh holds a music education degree from Drake University and graduate degrees in choral conducting from the University of Missouri and the University of Iowa. His teachers include Timothy Stalter, David Rayl, and Aimee Beckmann-Collier. Dr. Puderbaugh also is Music Director of Chamber Singers of Iowa City, an ensemble that focuses on major choral works such as Beethoven's Mass in C Major, Handel's Messiah, Haydn's The Seasons, Orff's Carmina Burana, Rachmaninoff's All-Night Vigil, as well as a Carnegie Hall performance of Haydn's Missa Cellensis. Beyond the university, Dr. Puderbaugh's research interest centers on Estonian choral music, which began with a Fulbright Fellowship to study that country's national song festivals during the Soviet occupation. He conducted the Estonian chamber choir Voces Musicales (now Voces Tallinn) in the album A Black Birch in Winter: American and Estonian Choral Music (MSR Classics, 2019), awarded 2019 Recording of the Year by the Estonian Choral Association. In July 2023, he and Voces Tallinn will be headline performers at the College Music Society's international conference in the Baltics. Dr. Puderbaugh is president of Midwestern ACDA, and has served on the editorial board of ACDA's Choral Journal. He is an active tenor soloist; recent credits include Handel's Messiah, Haydn's The Creation, Mozart's C-Minor Mass, and the Evangelist role in Bach's Christmas Oratorio and Schütz's St. John Passion.
